

Take time out to invest in yourself

Our leader retreats give busy entrepreneurs a unique opportunity to recharge — to step away from daily distractions and really focus on growing their business. At Big Rock Valley you'll encounter:

- An inspirational setting
- Thought-provoking curriculum
- Powerful peer connections

In fact, retreat participants tell us that coming here is like discovering their long-lost tribe: It's the first time they feel they're in a trusted environment and can talk openly about both business and personal issues.

What makes us different?

- A laser-like focus on second-stage entrepreneurs (companies that are beyond startup with the capacity and desire for sustained growth.)
- A deep understanding of peer learning.
- Big Rock Valley's serene setting — 2,000 acres of woodland, prairie and wetland.

You'll leave with:

- Greater insights into your strengths and leadership style.
- A clearer vision about your company's direction.
- Practical tools and techniques to accelerate growth.
- The ability to think differently about yourself, your people and your organization.
